

Bodies from the Ice: Melting Glaciers and the Recovery of the Past tells the story of Earth's melting alpine glaciers and the recent archaeological discoveries made there—the long-hidden bodies of hunters, soldiers, shepherds, mountain climbers, dairymaids, and even children. As their bodies are revealed, scientists study them to learn more information about the earth's past. But what will happen if glaciers disappear altogether? Recipient of the 2009 Sibert Informational Book

Honor Award, Outstanding Science Trade Book for Students K-12, Notable Book for Children 2009 (American Library Association).

Bodies from the Ash: Life and Death in Ancient Pompeii tells the story of the victims of ancient Pompeii after Mt. Vesuvius erupted on August 24 and 25, AD 79. In the 1700s, the town and its treasures were rediscovered—along with the skeletons of people who did not escape. By studying these individuals and their possessions, scientists tried to piece together their tragic stories. Best Children's Books of 2005

(School Library Journal), Notable Children's Trade Book in the Field of Social Studies, Outstanding Science Trade Book for Students K-12

Bodies from the Bog tells who the bog people were, how they lived, what they believed, and what the future holds for them hundreds and even thousands of years after their deaths. The book also explains the mysterious nature of peat bogs that allows bodies to be preserved. Best Children's Books of 1998 (School Library Journal), Top 100 Children's Books of 1998 (BCCB), Notable Book for Children 1999 (ALA).

3 NBs of Julian Drew is a novel about the strange and sometimes magical life of 15-year-old Julian Drew. He buys a notebook (NB). Then, using a secret code and writing to someone he calls U, he begins to fill his NB. Word by mysterious word, his NBs become a refuge from his bewildering circumstances and a record of a special dream about U and the journey he undertakes to solve the puzzle of his life. An ALA Popular Paperback for Young Adults, Notable Book in Language Arts 1995 (National Council of Teachers of English).

NEW! Faces from the Past: Forgotten People of North America concerns the facial reconstruction of historic remains found in North America. The faces (and their histories) include: Spirit Cave Man (whose remains were found in a Nevada cave), a French sailor from La Salle's last expedition, a woman from colonial New York, the enslaved servants from a New York farmstead, a Mexican soldier killed in the Texas War for Independence, and a buffalo soldier who died a terrible death in a lonely western outpost. Filled with amazing images and historical details, the book is "impressive and fascinating" (Kirkus Reviews).

Auschwitz: Voices from the Death Camp and Kristallnacht: The Nazi Terror that Began the Holocaust are two books in a new series entitled The Holocaust through
